

Agensight and Tesselate Group Partner to Accelerate Digital Transformation in Loan Agency Operations

London / Paris – 11 November 2025 – Agensight, the next-generation digital workflow platform for loan agency teams, has announced a strategic partnership with Tesselate Group, a leading corporate banking and financial services consulting firm and a fintech ecosystem orchestrator, fostering collaboration and innovation across the industry.

Under the signed agreement, the partnership combines Agensight’s end-to-end digital workflows with Tesselate Group’s integration expertise and hive.t interoperability platform, enabling banks and third-party agents to connect Agensight seamlessly with loan servicing solutions and KYC environments. The result is faster implementation, minimal demand on internal IT resources, and a lower-risk path to full digital transformation.

Syndicated loan operations remain heavily dependent on Outlook- and Excel-based processes that drive inefficiency, error, and operational risk. Agensight replaces these manual workflows with 26+ digitised processes spanning drawdowns, waivers, amendments, rate notices, and fee administration—complete with real-time audit trails and borrower/lender self-service portals.

Through this collaboration, Tesselate Group acts as the integration layer between Agensight and client back-office environments, using hive.t to standardise APIs and data models while accelerating fintech onboarding. The combined solution enables institutions to deploy Agensight rapidly, integrate securely with existing systems, and remain compatible with future back-office releases.

“Agency teams have been trapped in inboxes for far too long,” said Sean Tai, CEO and Founder of Agensight. “Our mission is to digitise the entire agency lifecycle globally. Partnering with Tesselate Group removes one of the biggest barriers to adoption, system integration, so institutions can go live faster and operate with confidence.”

“Our vision for interoperability through hive.t and the potential that our platform and Agensight can unlock are strongly aligned with the needs of banks and third-party agents worldwide,” said Tim Pingnet, Head of Lending at Tesselate Group. “Our market research shows a growing demand for these capabilities in corporate banking, and by combining our hive.t interoperability platform and integration services with Agensight’s purpose-built workflows, we deliver efficiency without disruption and scalability from day one.”

Since its launch, Agensight has engaged with more than 70 banks and third-party agents globally, with one bank already live in production with nearly 300 borrower-initiated drawdowns processed digitally. The partnership with Tesselate provides the integration capability to support rapid, multi-institution adoption across EMEA, APAC, and the Americas.

About Agensight

Agensight is the only comprehensive workflow platform for syndicated loan agency teams, designed to replace manual, email-driven processes. With 26 digital workflows, borrower and lender self-service, and deep integration into back-office systems, Agensight delivers measurable efficiency, transparency, and scalability. The company is incorporated in Ireland with offices in London and Johannesburg.

www.agensight.com

About Tesselate Group

Tesselate Group is a global consulting and technology orchestrator that helps financial institutions transform operations through connected ecosystems, intelligent automation, and end-to-end integration. Through its flagship solutions hive.t, Kinetic Trade and Kinetic Lending, Tesselate Group delivers seamless connectivity across systems, partners, and data flows, enabling digital modernisation at scale and empowering organisations to focus on growth and innovation.

With its hive.t interoperability platform, Tesselate Group simplifies connectivity between banks and fintech partners. The firm operates from eight strategic locations including Amsterdam, Brussels, Copenhagen, London, Paris, Casablanca, Fes and Dubai.

www.tesselategroup.com

Press Contacts

Sean Tai – Founder & CEO, Agensight – sean.tai@agensight.com

Mehdi Essalhi - Head of Marketing and Communication, Tesselate Group - mehdi.essalhi@tesselategroup.com